PROBLEM TWENTY: You Did It! A detective, while standing outside a cafe, at closing time heard someone scream, "Jason, don't do it!" Suddenly, the roar of gun fire was heard inside the cafe. The detective rushed in to investigate the incident through the only way in or out of the café. There were only three people in the café a doctor, a lawyer, and a waiter, all three of them were standing around a murdered woman who was lying on the kitchen floor in a pool of blood next to a handgun. After a brief moment, the detective confronted the waiter and said, "you did it!" The detective had never seen the waiter before. How did the detective know he was killer?
