CRIME QUIZ #7

How's Your Crime Detection IQ?

In every crime mystery story we see or read we consciously or subconsciously play the role of Sherlock Holmes in an attempt to sift through clues and pinpoint the culprit. We consider it a victory if we are able to deduce the guilty party before the unveiling! If we fail, we at least appreciate the author's cleverness in concealing the perpetrator so skillfully.

A police car stopped to investigate a traffic accident. A car had accordioned against a tree. The driver had apparently been thrown through the windshield and was lying on the ground in a pool of blood in front of the damaged car.

The face and neck of the victim had been badly lacerated (multiple cuts). Inside the car, the steering wheel was bent and blood was spattered over the front seat and floor of the car.

The speedometer needle was stuck at 75 mph.

Was the death murder or a traffic accident? EXPLAIN YOUR ANSWER

_____

_____

_____