

CRIME QUIZ #12

How's Your Crime Detection IQ?

In every crime mystery story we see or read we consciously or subconsciously play the role of Sherlock Holmes in an attempt to sift through clues and pinpoint the culprit. We consider it a victory if we are able to deduce the guilty party before the unveiling! If we fail, we at least appreciate the author's cleverness in concealing the perpetrator so skillfully.

A truck carrying a load of expensive furs was hijacked in Flagstaff, Arizona while travelling along Interstate 40 on the way to a retailer in Gallup, New Mexico. The driver told the police that he was driving about 55 mph along the Interstate when he looked in his side mirror to change lanes. At that moment he noticed a man was standing on the center of the trucks rear tailgate opening the back doors of the trucks cargo area. As soon as he was able to get stopped, the man jumped out of the truck and ran off with an arm full of expensive fur coats. Only the best furs were taken by the man as he fled.

Was he lying? EXPLAIN YOUR ANSWER

---

---

---